Cover

Let's look at the cover!

What can you see on the picture?

I see a train, a man in the train.

He is a man who drives a train.

Have you ever been on a train before?

What does a train sound like?

It sounds like, "Choo, choo!"

Let's make the sound of a train together!

Put your right hand like this, and say, "Choo, choo."

The title of this book is, "Choo Choo" written by Petr Horacek.

The train is ready to go!

It's leaving now! "Choo, choo!"

Children on the train are waving their hands.

They look very excited.

Look they are passing by houses!

I wonder where they are going.

Look! There are many trees.

Can you guess where this is?

Yes! They're passing through the woods.

Can you hear the sound "Puff, puff"?

Let's say together "Puff, puff!"

Here they go!

What do you see?

Where is the train?

The train is now out of the woods and going over a brown bridge.

The children are excited, because they're up on the bridge.

Can you guess where they are going?

We see big mountains.

Look! The train will go into somewhere.

Do you know what this is?

It's a tunnel!

Get ready!

They're going into the tunnel.

Have you ever been through a tunnel before?

How do you feel inside a tunnel?

It's really dark and quiet inside the tunnel.

Are you scared?

Look at the children on the train!

They're still excited.

They're so brave.

Where are they going the next?

Page 11-12

Now, they're out of the tunnel.

It's not dark anymore.

They can see the sunshine now.

So, they're all happy again.

What sound can you hear? "Chuff, chuff"

Do you know where they are going?

What do you see in the picture?

Water, a parasol, a beach volleyball, and sand!

Where is this place?

They arrived at the beach.

Look at the children!

They're shouting "Hooray!"

The man driving train is shouting as well.

When we're happy, we say "Hooray!"

Let's all say together "Hooray!"

They sure will have fun at the beach.
