

Hello, Little Bird_Picture Walking Script

Cover page

Let's look at the cover.

What can you see on this cover?

I see a bird. What is the bird doing?

The bird is flying in the sky.

Do you know where she is going?

Okay, let's follow the bird and find out.

The title of today's book is, 'Hello, little bird.' Written and illustrated by Petr Horacek.

Page 1-2

Good morning, little bird!

The sun is shining so brightly.

It's time to wake up.

Little bird is already awake.

She is looking outside from a hole. Little bird's house is on the branch of a tree.

Look at the bird!

What is she doing?

The little bird is hopping on the wire.

She looks very excited. I think she is ready to fly!

Page 5-6

The little bird is flying.

Look at her wings.

She is stretching and flapping her wings.

The little bird is flying over the field.

Now do you know where she is going?

Page 7-8

What can you see on this page?

I see a bird and a hole.

What is the little bird doing?

Maybe she is trying to get something out of the hole.

I wonder what's inside the hole.

Page 9-10

Oh, the little bird caught a worm.

It's a long worm!

She is pulling out the worm from the ground.

What is she going to do with the worm?

Is she going to eat the worm?

Is she going to play with the worm?

Okay, let's look at the next page.

Look at the little bird!

She is flying back home.

She is still holding the worm with her beak.

I wonder why she is bringing the worm back home.

Look, there are baby birds inside her house.

How many baby birds do you see?

They are waiting for their breakfast, they must be very hungry.

Oh, I guess the little bird is going to give the worm to her babies.

Now, it's time to eat! Yum, yum!
